

ABSTRACT

[0035] Briefly, a method and apparatus that may detect hidden nodes in BSS based on a hidden node report that may be generated in an access point based on nodes reports received from stations of the BSS. The access point may enable and/or disable a hidden node protection mechanism and/or may control the transmit power of the stations.